the Hilachi Maru is not yet known. The Bado Maru, although safe, is disabled.
It is stated that the vessels of the Russian squadron which attacked the transports Tired about one hundred and fifty shells at the Sado Maru, two of which lodging in the transport's machinery, badly crippled her. The Russians then ordered inc crew to leave the ship, but only the non-combatants on board obeyed. These latter, together with some of those saved after they jumped overboard from the Hitachi Maru, conveyed the news to points where it could be sent to the Jananese capital. The Sado Maru, although disabled, continued affoat, and all who remained on board were saved.

Russian General Klokotcheff Says He Did Not Come to Ask Support of French Government.

Russian General Riokotches. He Did Not Come to Ask Support of French Government.

(Special London Times Cable to The Times-Dispatch, Copyright 1904.)

MARSEILLES, June 17.—The Russian General Klokotcheff, who arrived here has night on a mission from the Czar to the French government and the German, Emperor, said to your correspondent that he was the bearer of an autograph letter from the Czar to President Loubet, and that after handing it to the latter he would proceed to Germany. He said that he did not come to ask the support of France in the present conflict-in-the far East, as Russia had absolute conflictence in her own final success. He had come, he said, to east France, in the name of the engagements which united her and Russia, to watch closely the frontier of China in case of a general uprising, which is to be apprehended, and in order that France should be ready to second Russia's efforts in that direction.

The Russian general went on to say that his government was well informed as to the manceuvres of certain Japanese agents dispersed all over China, who were preaching revoit and declaring that the yellow rice must annihilate the white races. He said that be believed the Chinese would soon rise, and that consequently energetic measures must be taken by Russia, France and Germany, Assuming that the Russian general's intelligence is correct, it is well to state that the engagements referred to by him do not involve French intervention in the far East, even in the form of preventive measures, such as he indicates.

After the announcement of the Anglo-Japanese treaty, the France-Russian mote was communicated to the press, in which it was stated that in the event of fresh troubles in China, the two allied governments reserved to themselves the right of considering the eventual means of srefugating their interests. There is no other engagement between France and Russia in reaart to the far East. France would loyally execute the engagements involved in the France-Russian treaty, but she has no reason whatso

TOKIO, June II—II A. M.—II is probable that fog has again-saved the Vladivoslok squadron. Many rumors are extant of an action at sea, but they are not confirmed. The Russian ships were first sighted off Okino Island at $230 A. M. June 15th by a patrol beat, which reported the fact to Vice Admiral Kamimura at an unknown base, who left in pursuit with his whole squadron. At $120 A. M. on the same date Vice Admiral Tsunoda, commanding the Take-Shiki naval station, received the information of the enemy's appearance off shore.

Subpoenced Steamboat Company Officials.

The disargement that has arisen with regard to the raising of the wreck has disturbed the district attorney. As soon as he learned of it he sent an assistant to the knickerbocker Steamboat Company to the Market Householder on the matter. Mayor McClellan, Pel ce Commissi ner McAdoo and Mr. Pel ce Commissi ner McAdoo and Mr. Derone conferred on this question during the day.

The district attorney has subpoenced representatives of the Knickerbocker Steamboat Company, its counsel, Judge Dittenheefer, the president and officers, Capiain Van Schaick and the crew and others to appear at his office to-morrow. The intention is to get as complete a history of the disaster as possible, and a number of survivers of the wreck have been summoped as well. If the responsibility can be fixed it will be done and the outcome of the examinations, it is hoped by the district attorney, will give some real information.

VIRGINIA OPPOSED TO EITHER

Both Senators Martin and Daniel Not Favorable to Them-Old Dominion Solid for Parker.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, D. C., June 17 .-- It appears inconceivable to those at all fanillar with the facts that the newspapers of the country should give space to stories concerning the importance of efforts which are being made to make efforts which are being made to make e.ther Mr. Cleyeland or Mr. Gorman the nominee of the St. Louis convention. It would be as easy, much cas.er, indeed, to nominate Mr. Hearst than either of the gentiemen named.

This in effect, was what one of the best known Democrats in the country said in the course of conversation last night. He had been discussing the reports printed in several of the northern papers to the effect that the Cleveland people were secously of the opinion that it would be possible to nominate the sage of Princeton, and that some wanted to see Gorman the nominee, and were at work to bring about a combination which would make his nomination a certainty.

He alluded to the reports that the Virginla delegation was for Mr. Gorman, and that the vote of the State would be cast for him at St. Louis. It is would be cast for him at St. Louis, It is and said that there are some papers in the country which have even said that the delegation would vote for Mr. Cleveland for the nomination. The latter is the most absurd of a., the many rumors which are flying, regarding the attitude of the Virginia delegation. Mr. Ryan, of Nelson county, and possibly one other of the delegation, are understood to be very friendly to the nomination of Mr. Cleveland. Those who know Senator Martin and Senator Daniel best, know that there is scarcely a man in the country for views.

Or Judge Parker. The assurances given the convention by Senator Daniel, Senator Martin and Mr. Glass, and the repeated declarations of other prominent than the convention by the prominent of the control of the prominent of the control of members of the delegation that the delegates from Virginia are for Judge Parker, should be sufficient. If it were conceivable that these gentlemen would conceivable that these gentlemen would undertake at this date to deliver the vote of the State in the convention to some other candidate, without experiencing any moral qualms, it is entirely inconceivable that they should feel that there would be no political consequences of the most serious nature attaching to their action. The fact that the delegation was uninstructed, leaves it free to cast the vote of the State as a majority may decide, and causes some to think that some other man than Judge Parker may get it.

causes some to think that some other man than Judge Parker may get it. Judge Parker may get it. Judge Parker will get it, unless there should be a tremendous change and an entirely unforescen change in the situation between now and the date of the convention.

Senator Daniel reiterated this in this city this week, and so did Senator Martin. Senator Daniel also told the New York reporters this on Tuesday. He is in New York on business, but it is expected that he will be here again to-morrow. He talked with Thomas F. Ryan while in New York, but while he talked politics, he said that there was nothing in the conversation regarding an attempt to
